My PROGCON Class Experience

      The semester was finally done. I really thought the subject will be difficult for me and to the class but it wasn't. PROGCON taught me patient, to understand and try and try which I can apply in my life. This subject didn't only taught me in my understanding in programming and also in my life. Ms. Jen really help me to understand and somehow love programming maybe because how she teach us. She makes our subject fun and also we can learn because of her Kahoot Games and Blockly games which is a really big help to us to make and understand programs. I still remember that when we are creating a program and that we are making that a week but now we can make a programs less than an hour which is really good. I'm sure the things that we learn in programming can apply our when we are in a real world because it is really helpful since our generation today is more on technology.
