Hanna Jean I. Bayot

AC 192

Blocky Games

Our class was introduced to Blockly Games it is an online programming games that we should solve a problem in every level which is I'm having a hard time since in every level you pass, the problems makes harder and harder. In our first day trying it I feel so upset because I'm having a really hard time to it I don't know what code I should put and also I'm having a hard understand the problem but after trying and trying I'm so happy if I passed every level I feel so good. But I don't want to try it again.

The game taught me how to be patient and try and try until you finish every level. And also Blockly enhanced my understanding and logic in programming.